Further detail on these products, and our Services in relation to each, is set out in the Supplemental Terms.

You should ensure that you fully understand the risks involved and seek independent advice if needed. The prices of relevant products can change rapidly to your detriment. The vast majority of Retail Clients lose money when trading CFDs and Spread Bets.

2. Regulatory Matters

Client Acceptance Process

- 2.1 We are required by the Applicable Law to conduct the Due Diligence Process to identify and verify our customers, which forms part of our client acceptance process. We have adopted a risk-based approach to this process, which may involve requesting, including but not limited to, documentary evidence of your name, legal entity identifier (LEI) (if applicable), date of birth and address. You consent to our use of additional online electronic verification tools, which may request further information, documents, and photo or video evidence from you. If you are unable to satisfy our client acceptance process, you may not be able to open an Account with us, or we may be required to close your existing Account. We shall assess the appropriateness of our Services by reference to your knowledge, experience and understanding of the risks involved.
- 2.2 We will not accept you as a Client and we shall not commence providing our Services to you until:
- (a) we have successfully completed the Due Diligence Process; and
 - (b) we have established that you have passed the Appropriateness Test, where applicable.
- 2.3 We will only offer you our Services when we have successfully completed our client acceptance process, at which point you will receive a confirmation from us to that effect. Prior to our confirmation, you are a Prospective Client, and you may have access to certain parts of the Trading Platform, during which you agree to be bound by the Terms.
- 2.4 The Services and products we provide may not be suitable for everyone. Accordingly, we have identified our target market, and we generally expect our Services to be used by individuals who:

- (b) are likely to have a diversified investment portfolio;
- (c) have some professional or personal experience trading Financial Instruments;
- (d) wish to speculatively trade high risk Financial Instruments, or hedge exposure using high risk Financial Instruments;
- (e) are aware of the risks associated with trading such instruments; and
- (f) are financially capable of bearing potential losses associated with trading CFDs and/or Spread Bets.

Client Categorisation

- 2.5 Pursuant to the Applicable Law, we categorise our Clients into three main categories: “Eligible Counterparties”, “Professional Clients” and “Retail Clients”. We will treat you as a Retail Client unless we have informed you otherwise in accordance with the Applicable Law and our Client Categorisation Policy.
- 2.6 Retail Clients are afforded the highest level of regulatory protection. As a Retail Client, you are entitled to negative balance protection. This means you cannot lose more than your Balance. If at any time you have a negative Balance on your Account, we will return the Balance to zero (0). Please note, this may not happen immediately.
- 2.7 Eligible Counterparties and Professional Clients are considered to be more experienced, knowledgeable, sophisticated and able to assess their own risk, thus are given a lower level of regulatory protection. If you meet the conditions outlined in clause 16 concerning Professional Clients and Eligible Counterparties, you have a right to request a different categorisation. Any such recategorisation will result in you losing the benefit of the higher level of protection given to Retail Clients under the Applicable Law. Should we categorise you as a Professional Client or Eligible Counterparty based on the information you provide to us during the client acceptance process, or if you request to be recategorised, we will outline the protections you may lose in a separate warning notice provided to you.
- 2.8 Where we have categorised you as a Professional Client or an Eligible Counterparty, it is possible to lose more than your Balance and you may be required to make further payments. If you are categorised as a Professional Client or an Eligible Counterparty you should refer to clause 16, which sets out the additional terms applicable to you.
- 2.9 If you believe you are eligible for recategorisation, please contact a member of our client-management team. Our approval of any request to be treated as an Eligible Counterparty, Professional Client or Retail Client will be at our discretion and subject to an assessment of your financial situation, expertise, experience, and knowledge of investment matters.

Third Parties and Your Account

- 2.10 You acknowledge that, save in respect of Attorneys that have been appointed under a validly executed POA and otherwise in accordance with clause 2.24, you are not allowed to open an Account with us on a third party's behalf, regardless of your legal relations. You are only permitted to use our Services for Algorithmic Trading having first obtained our express consent, provided that all such activities strictly comply with applicable market rules, regulations, and industry standards, including but not limited to ensuring fair market practices and preventing market manipulation. We shall have the right to unilaterally close any non-compliant Account that we become aware of or any Account which we reasonably suspect to be non-compliant, and we shall not be liable for any losses, damages, costs, or expenses arising from our actions under this clause.

Our Conflict of Interest Policy sets out the types of actual or potential conflicts of interest which affect or may affect our Services under these Terms and provides details on how these are to be managed.
- 2.14 In accordance with our Conflicts of Interest Policy, we are committed to managing conflicts of interests fairly. Our comprehensive policy is in place to identify, manage, and disclose potential conflicts. You can find more information about our Conflicts of Interest Policy on our Website.
- 2.15 You shall notify us promptly of any potential or existing conflict affecting our provision of the Services which you are or become aware of.
- 2.16 In the event of any conflicts of interest arising from Transactions executed on your behalf, we are committed to manage such conflicts in a fair and transparent manner.

- 2.22 Transactions executed under this Agreement are subject to reporting in accordance with the Applicable Law. This includes, but is not limited to, information such as the Transaction type, date, price, volume, and the identity of the counterparties involved.
- 2.23 You agree to provide any necessary information that may be required for compliance with our Transaction reporting obligations. This may include, but is not limited to, your identification details, the nature of the Transaction, and any other relevant data as requested by us. If such information is not provided to us within a reasonable timeframe, we reserve the right to terminate your Account immediately.

Power of Attorney

- 2.24 We may permit the authorisation of a third party to access and manage your account at our discretion. You may request such authorisation by submitting to us a duly completed power of attorney ("POA"). The POA may take the form of either a "Limited Power of Attorney" or a "Full Power of Attorney", each of which grant different rights and permissions to the third party attorney (the "Attorney"), as detailed below:
- (a) Limited Power of Attorney: this form of POA grants limited authority to the Attorney to act on your behalf concerning your account. The Attorney will have the authority to execute trades, adjust account preferences, and manage rollover instructions, as specified. However, the Attorney is expressly prohibited from amending your personal details, initiating or processing payments, withdrawing funds, or modifying statement and notification preferences.
 - (b) Full Power of Attorney: this form of POA grants full authority to the Attorney. The Attorney will have the authority to perform any and all actions that you could undertake in relation to the account. This includes, but is not limited to, opening and closing Positions, managing Account Balances, initiating payments, and making withdrawals. Any payments or withdrawals made by the Attorney must be to and from accounts held in your name. Third-party payments are not permitted.
- 2.25 To grant either a Limited Power of Attorney or a Full Power of Attorney, you are required to complete the applicable form, which outlines the specific powers to be conferred upon the Attorney. The completed form must be submitted to the company for approval. Following submission, relevant checks, including identity verification and regulatory compliance reviews, will be conducted. Once all necessary checks, verifications and further due diligence (if required) are completed to our satisfaction, the applicable POA will be established.
- 2.26 Should you wish to grant a POA to an Attorney, or if you require additional assistance, please contact our client management team for further guidance and support.

3. Trading With Us

- 3.1 We reserve the right to offer different Account types and features. Depending on your knowledge and experience or client categorisation, some of these may not be available to you. We reserve the right to convert your Account type and/or enable/disable (as applicable) Account features if, in our sole discretion, we determine that a different Account type/feature (as applicable) is more appropriate for you or if otherwise required by the Applicable Law. We may withdraw or amend any promotions, discounts or similar offers at any time without prior notice and at our sole discretion.
- 3.2 The Services shall be subject to any limits or restrictions which are contained in these Terms, and which are required by the Applicable Law. CFD and Spread Bet Transactions do not confer to you any right, voting right, title or interest in any underlying instrument or entitle and/or oblige you to acquire, receive, hold, vote, deliver, dispose of or participate directly in any Corporate Action of any underlying instrument.

- 3.3 Our Services are offered strictly on a non-advised, execution-only basis, which means that all investment decisions are made solely by you, and you are fully responsible for determining your investment strategy and placing all Orders. Whilst our staff may provide insights and factual information about market trends, please note that we will never provide any advice on your investments, Transactions, or trading decisions. We will not offer any advice or recommendations concerning our Services, and any information we provide should not be construed as such. We recommend you seek independent professional advice to assess whether the intended investments are suitable for you. While we may supply factual information about our products, potential risks, or the financial markets in general, we do so without considering your personal circumstances.
- 3.4 We shall open an Account in your name in the selected available currency. You shall be able to use your Account to trade once you have passed the client acceptance process and deposited into your Account the initial Margin Requirement.
- 3.5 By using the Services, including our Website and Trading Platform, you acknowledge and agree that:
- (a) it is prohibited to use, store, reproduce, display, modify, sell, publish and distribute content and information related to the Services without our prior written permission;
 - (b) you shall not use the Services for any unlawful or unauthorized purpose; and
 - (c) you acknowledge that all proprietary rights in the Trading Platform are owned by us or by any applicable third-party licensors or service providers selected by us and are protected under copyright, trademark and other intellectual property laws and other Applicable Law.
- 3.6 You may make a profit or incur a loss as a result of the Transactions. All profits and losses shall be calculated promptly into the currency in which the Account is opened.
- 3.7 The Order shall only be deemed to be placed by you when it is reflected on your Account on the Trading Platform or your Statement.
- 3.8 You acknowledge that we may from time to time outsource and/or partially outsource certain of the Services offered through these Terms, to the extent and as permissible by the Applicable Law, to any of our group companies or third parties.

Joint Accounts

- 3.9 We permit the opening and operation of Joint Accounts at our discretion; that is a trading Account established to facilitate the trading of CFDs and/or Spread Betting activities held by two or more individuals.
- 3.10 If we permit you to open a Joint Account, we may act upon instructions given by you or any other individual in whose name the Account is opened, each being a Joint Account holder, including instructions to execute trades. Any Orders confirmed will be binding on all Joint Account holders. Under certain circumstances, we may require instructions from all Joint Account holders.
- 3.11 We may send any notice or communication to either you or another Joint Account Holder.
- 3.12 All Joint Account holders will be jointly and severally liable for any losses, fees, or charges incurred on the Joint Account. This means that any amounts owed on the Account must be paid in full by you or any of the other Joint Account holder(s).
- 3.13 Unless you notify us otherwise and we have agreed at our sole discretion, all assets held in a Joint Account will be treated as owned jointly by all Joint Account holders as Joint Tenants, without distinction regarding ownership.
- 3.14 In the event of the death of you or any other Joint Account holder, we may accept instructions from and remit any remaining Balance to the survivor(s).

Linked Accounts

- 3.15 To the extent permitted by the Applicable Law, we may notify you that your Accounts will be classified as Linked Accounts. Ordinarily, we will only make transfers between your Linked Accounts at your request and at our sole discretion. Free Funds on one Linked Account cannot be used to satisfy your Aggregate Margin Requirement of other Linked Accounts by you. We reserve the right to move Free Funds from one Linked Account to another at our sole discretion. If such situation arises, we will notify you of the transfer. Please note this may be after the transfer has happened.

Making Deals

- 3.16 Each Order shall be submitted by you via the Trading Platform or any other Means of Communication.
- 3.17 Before you place any Order, you can obtain a Quote from the Trading Platform or from our brokerage team through any Means of Communication (as applicable to the product). The Quote shall only be valid until it is automatically replaced by a new one on the Trading Platform. If a Quote is provided by another Means of Communication, it shall only be valid for an Order placed immediately.
- 3.18 Indicative Prices may be accessed via the Trading Platform or through another Means of Communication. Quotes provided by our brokerage team via any other Means of Communication may differ at any time to the Indicative Prices.
- 3.19 We reserve the right to reject any Orders at our sole discretion.
- 3.20 Unless expressly permitted under these Terms, neither party can cancel a Transaction if it has been executed pursuant to a valid Quote and you have confirmed that you want to buy or sell the desired quantity of the relevant instrument. In some situations, we may provide a partial execution of an Order as an alternative to an outright rejection. If an Order can only be executed partially due to relevant considerations or applicable limits, you authorise us to make reasonable efforts to execute that part of the Order.
- 3.21 It is your responsibility to ensure that your Account has sufficient Balance to satisfy your Aggregate Margin Requirement. Any failure to do so may result in a Margin Close-Out.

Manual Trade

- 3.22 Certain products offered by us may only be traded manually via a Means of Communication during Business Hours. You acknowledge that the Trading Platform may only be available for Indicative Prices for these specific products, and therefore, all Orders for such products must be communicated directly to our brokerage team via a Means of Communication during Business Hours. We reserve the right to determine which products are subject to this manual trading requirement and to modify our Business Hours.

Our Price

- 3.23 The Quote shall be the bid price (the price at which you can sell) and the offer price (the price at which you can buy) for each instrument via the Trading Platform or any other Means of Communication.
- 3.24 The Quote shall be determined based on prevailing market conditions. The difference between our bid price and our offer price is Flux Markets' "Spread". For certain products, our Spread may contain an element of charge or commission for us. For some markets the Spread changes frequently and there is no limit to how large any such changes may be. You acknowledge that when you close a Position, our Spread may be larger or smaller than our Spread when the trade was opened, even for markets where our Spread is nominally fixed.
- 3.25 We will provide best execution in line with the Applicable Law and our Order Execution Policy which is provided on our Website.

- 3.26 You agree that all Pending Orders placed by you may be executed at a price different from the specified one in the case of sharp fluctuations in the price of the instrument.

Errors

- 3.27 From time to time, material errors and omissions may occur in respect of your CFD trades, Spread Bets, your Account, our Trading Platform or other Means of Communication (each an Error). Examples of Errors, include but are not limited to, a pricing Error, our Trading Platform displaying prices which are not reflective (whether caused by a third-party supplier or due to a problem with our systems), an Order being handled incorrectly by our Trading Platform and/or our staff (including execution at a price which is not indicative of underlying market conditions) or incorrect deductions or credits being applied to your Account.
- 3.28 If you know or suspect or are aware of circumstances in which you ought reasonably to know or suspect, that an Error has occurred, you shall notify us as soon as reasonably practicable. In a similar manner, we shall notify you as soon as reasonably practicable in such circumstances, which for the avoidance of doubt may be after an Error has occurred.
- 3.29 If an Error has occurred, this constitutes a Specified Event and the provisions of clauses 7.11 and 7.16 will apply. We will inform you of any Reserved Actions we may take, or may have taken, in accordance with clause 7.16.

4. Financial Matters

Your money

- 4.1 If we have categorised you as a Retail Client, in accordance with the Applicable Law, money which we hold for you shall be held as Client Money in accordance with the relevant Applicable Law. Client Money shall be identified and stored separately from our own assets in a segregated Client bank account.
- 4.2 We may pass money held for, or received from, you to a third party (such as an exchange or intermediate broker, over-the-counter counterparty or settlement agent) to hold or control in order to effect a Transaction through or with that person or to satisfy your obligation to provide collateral (for example, a Margin Requirement) in respect of a Transaction. If such a third party is outside the United Kingdom, the applicable legal and regulatory regime shall be different from that of the United Kingdom, and if such third party fails, your money may be treated differently to the position which would apply if your Client Money had remained in the United Kingdom.
- 4.3 We will perform regular reconciliations of the Client Money account(s) to ensure that the amount held in these accounts matches the total amount of Client Money that should be segregated under the FCA CASS Rules. If there is any discrepancy, it will be corrected within the timeframe stipulated by FCA CASS Rules.
- 4.4 For the avoidance of doubt, no interest will be accrued on any funds in your Account, including any Client Money.
- 4.5 All due skill, care and diligence will be exercised in the selection, appointment and periodic review of any third-party financial institution with whom your money is placed. We will not be responsible for any acts, omissions or defaults of the third-party financial institution.
- 4.6 In the event that there has been no movement on your Account Balance for a period of at least six years and we are unable to contact you despite having taken reasonable steps to do so, you agree that we may cease to treat your money in accordance with the FCA CASS Rules.
- 4.7 In the event of our failure (for example, due to Insolvency), any money held in a Client Money account with a third party financial institution will be segregated from our other assets and will not be available to our creditors. However, in the event of failure (for example, due to the Insolvency) of a third party, your money may be held with other customers' money in a pooled Client Money account. In the event that the third party holding the money defaults and there is a shortfall, you agree to share proportionately in that shortfall with other creditors of the third party where your Client Money is deposited.

- 4.8 Where any amounts owed by you to us under these Terms are due and payable to us, in accordance with relevant FCA Rules, we shall cease to treat as Client Money the amount owed to us. You agree that we may apply that money towards satisfaction of all or part of those amounts due and payable to us. For the purposes of this clause, any such amounts owed by you to us under these Terms become immediately due and payable, without notice or demand by us, when incurred by you or on your behalf.

Deposits and Withdrawals

- 4.9 You have the right to deposit and withdraw money to and from your Account via the methods specified on the Trading Platform. We have the right to restrict the available methods at any point in time. Please note that, depending on the method, there might be specific conditions for the deposit to take place. You are obligated to log in to our Website via your username and password before issuing a Payment Instruction. Please note that for any deposits and/or withdrawals, you are obliged to use only bank accounts, cards or any other type of accounts belonging to you. By agreeing to make a deposit, save in respect of Attorneys that have been appointed under a validly executed POA and otherwise in accordance with clause 2.24, you confirm you are depositing your own funds for your own trading with Flux Markets.
- 4.10 You shall transfer money to your Account only after you agree to the Agreement, you receive confirmation that you passed our client acceptance process and you have a valid username and password to access the Trading Platform. Bank deposits from third parties to your Account shall not be accepted under any circumstances.
- 4.11 A Payment Instruction to withdraw funds can be submitted by emailing trading@flux.live or any other Means of Communication. Please note, ordinarily it may take up to five (5) Business Days to process your request. However, processing times may occasionally be longer in exceptional circumstances. You shall have the right to withdraw money from your Account up to the amount of the Free Funds. You shall not be able to instruct us to make any payments to third parties on your behalf.
- 4.12 You acknowledge that ordinarily the withdrawal of any portion of the Free Funds will be executed via the same method and to the same source as the one we received the funds from. Subject to our approval, there are certain situations where an exception might be made for a withdrawal to be executed to a payment method different from the one used for deposits. You will be required to provide us with all evidence necessary to establish that the new payment method is in your name.
- 4.13 You consent that whenever you confirm a Payment Instruction to withdraw funds, Flux Markets will use a specific payment intermediary or bank to process your withdrawal as per your Payment Instruction. The payment intermediary or bank may hold the withdrawal amount while the payment transaction is being processed, at which point the withdrawal amount will no longer be considered Client Money.
- 4.14 We may request additional information and/or documentation to verify the legitimacy of any Payment Instruction request. We may delay or refuse to process a Payment Instruction where we have reasonable grounds of doubt relating but not limited to:
- (a) the authenticity of the instruction provided;
 - (b) whether there are potential unauthorised or fraudulent use of your Account;
 - (c) the validity of the nominated bank account supplied; or
 - (d) the compliance with the Applicable Law.
- You hereby accept that under such circumstances, there may be a delay in the processing of your Payment Instruction or the Payment Instruction may be refused (as applicable).
- 4.15 You hereby undertake to inform us every time a card used by you to make deposits to your Account has expired or been blocked, deactivated or otherwise suspended. We shall not be liable if we should satisfy your Payment

Instruction by way of paying money back to a card that has expired or has been blocked, deactivated or otherwise suspended without your prior notification thereof.

- 4.16 If you decide to withdraw funds that were initially deposited with a payment card by submitting a chargeback with your issuing bank or otherwise, then you expressly agree that we shall have the right to Set-Off the respective amounts from your Free Funds in relation to any funds that are successfully reversed during the chargeback process.
- 4.17 In the event that there is Client Money that cannot be allocated to you in whole pennies or cents, meaning there is a residual amount of less than 1 penny or cent (as applicable, depending on the currency of your Account) that needs to be allocated to you, you expressly agree that we may write this amount off and pay it away to a registered charity.

Fees

- 4.18 You shall pay and we reserve the right to deduct any applicable charges and/or commissions, details of which are set out in the Costs and Charges document and may be amended from time to time. Any amendments will be communicated to you in accordance with clause 14.1.
- 4.19 It is your responsibility to regularly access and review the Statements to ensure that it corresponds with your own records. This information will be conclusive unless we notify you of any mistake, Error or inaccuracy or the client management team receives notification of any mistake, Error or inaccuracy from you and we agree with your notification.
- 4.20 If applicable, our Costs and Charges document will set out details of any arrangements that involve the payment or receipt by us of any fee or non-monetary benefit to or from any person other than you in connection with the Services provided by us under these Terms. Further details of these arrangements shall be disclosed to you as soon as practicable following notice in writing to us requesting such disclosure.
- 4.21 You shall be responsible for the payment of any commissions, transfer fees, registration fees, Transaction taxes and/or stamp duties, governmental or administrative levies and fees and all other liabilities and costs properly payable or incurred by us under these Terms. Transaction tax is the collective term referring to all taxes and levies charged in Transactions in Financial Instruments in all applicable jurisdictions. Certain jurisdictions may oblige you to pay a certain amount (usually, a fixed percentage) of Transaction tax or stamp duty. The existence and amount of tax depend on the specific type of Financial Instrument and the applicable national legislation.
- 4.22 You agree that Flux Markets will not be liable for any additional fees you may be charged by any bank or other third-party financial services provider which you use for the transfer of funds to and from us.

5. Margin and Settlement

- 5.1 Before placing an Order, you will need to ensure that your Free Funds are adequate to meet the Margin Requirement. For each open Position, we shall ring-fence a part of the funds you deposit as collateral. These funds are known as the Margin Requirement which is a percentage of the total value of the Position or a fixed amount per contract or unit traded, as shown on the Trading Platform and/or Website. The Aggregate Margin Requirement cannot be withdrawn by you whilst the Positions remain open. The applicable Margin Requirement for each product is determined by us and may vary depending on the asset class, market conditions, and your client classification.

It is your responsibility to monitor your Aggregate Margin Requirement which is shown real time on the Trading Platform, and to take any action required as soon as possible to ensure your Equity exceeds your Aggregate Margin Requirement. If you fail to satisfy the Aggregate Margin Requirement under clause 5.1, we shall inform you without undue delay via email.

For the avoidance of doubt, that may be after we have liquidated Positions.
- 5.5 The provisions under clause 5.4 shall apply when the shortage of funds exceeds 50% of the Aggregate Margin Requirement and any of your open Positions may be closed one by one or simultaneously.
- 5.6 The procedure and actions under clauses 5.4 and 5.5 are intended to cover potential losses that may arise from market movements against your Positions. Losses may translate to negative Account Balances. Negative balance protection is offered to Retail Clients, but this protection is not available to Professional Clients and Eligible Counterparties.
- 5.7 We reserve the right to modify the Margin Requirement for any product at any time.

- 15.5 If any provision of these Terms is found to be invalid, unenforceable, or illegal, but could become valid, enforceable, and legal with certain modifications, both parties agree to negotiate in good faith to amend such provisions to make them valid, enforceable, and as close as possible to the original commercial intent of both parties.
- 15.6 Any delay, failure, or omission (whether in whole or in part) to enforce, exercise, or pursue any right, power, privilege, claim, or remedy under these Terms, or by law, shall not be construed as a waiver of that or any other right, power, privilege, claim, or remedy regarding the situation in question, nor will it prevent the enforcement of that or any other right, power, privilege, claim, or remedy in the future.

Categorisation

- 16.1 As a Professional Client or Eligible Counterparty, you represent, warrant, and agree that you have met the necessary criteria under the Applicable Law, the details of which can be found within our Client Categorisation Policy.
- 16.2 You will promptly provide any information or documentation required to enable us assess or verify your classification status.
- 16.3 By agreeing to be classified as a Professional Client or an Eligible Counterparty, you acknowledge and accept that you will not be entitled to certain protections afforded to Retail Clients under the Applicable Law. This includes, but is not limited to:
- a) reduced protection under the Financial Ombudsman Service (FOS): You may not have the right to refer complaints to the FOS;
 - b) negative balance protection: You may not be protected from losses exceeding your Balance;
 - c) you may not benefit from the same best execution obligations that apply to Retail Clients; and
 - d) no Retail Client information disclosures: You may not receive all disclosures or other information that are provided to Retail Clients.

Further details will be provided in our warning notice.

Profit and loss

- 16.4 You may incur losses from any CFD trade and/or Spread Bet that exceed your Balance.

Your money

- 16.5 As permitted by the Applicable Law, we may agree with you that you do not require money which is transferred by you to us to be held in a segregated Client Money bank account following appropriate disclosure of the associated risks by us to you. Any such agreement must be in our agreed form, in writing and signed by you. If such agreement is signed by you, you acknowledge and accept that following such an agreement:
- a) any transfer of money you make to us will be treated as a transfer of full ownership of the money for the purpose of securing or covering your present, future, actual, contingent or prospective obligations with us;
 - b) you should not place any money with us that is not for the purpose of securing or covering your present, future, actual, contingent or prospective obligations with us;
 - c) such money does not constitute Client Money for the purposes of the Applicable Law, you will no longer have a proprietary claim over the money transferred to us and it and may be used by us in the course of our business; and
 - d) you will rank as an unsecured creditor of us in respect of this money in the event of our Insolvency.

Payments

- 16.6 If your Account has a negative Balance (including following the termination of these Terms), it must be cleared without delay. If it is not, that negative Balance constitutes a debt owed to us, which is immediately due and payable. Should you fail to make the required payment to us, we reserve the right to charge interest on the overdue amount from the date it was due until we receive full payment. This interest will accrue daily at a rate of SOFR plus 60 percentage points per annum, calculated on the basis of actual days elapsed divided by 365 (or 366 in a leap year).
- 16.7 Where a Margin Call has been issued and remains unsatisfied in full, interest will accrue on the outstanding margin shortfall (being the amount by which your Equity falls short of your Aggregate Margin Requirement) from the date and time of the Margin Call notification until the shortfall is satisfied or, where applicable, a Margin Close-Out is executed in respect of the relevant Positions. Interest under this clause will accrue daily at a rate of SOFR plus 60 percentage points per annum, calculated on actual days elapsed divided by 365 (or 366 in a leap year). Any interest accruing under this clause is immediately due and payable on demand, and we may deduct it from your Account Balance or apply any Free Funds in your Account towards its satisfaction. Interest will not accrue under both this clause and clause 16.6 in respect of the same amount for the same period. We reserve the right, at our discretion, to waive or reduce any interest accruing under this clause, provided that any such waiver must be confirmed in writing by an authorised representative of Flux Markets and will not affect our right to enforce this clause in any future case.

- 16.8 Notwithstanding any other terms in these Terms, any payment obligation that we may have to you is subject to the condition that no Event of Default has occurred or is continuing.

Our right of Set-Off

- 16.9 We may, at any time and without notice to you, apply any Free Funds in your Account(s) with us or our associates, or any money due to you from us, against any money due to us (or any of our associates) under any Account with us or our Associates from you. This is our right of Set-Off. We may apply a currency conversion to convert the relevant funds and any money due to you or us into the same currency. If we exercise our right of Set-Off, we will give you notice of the amount of any debt that remains unsatisfied and such debt is immediately payable to us.

Orders

- 16.10 If your Account has insufficient Free Funds to meet the relevant Margin Requirement, we will not execute that Order unless our brokerage team agrees otherwise.

Margin Close-Out

- 16.11 "Margin Close-Out" has the meaning given in the Definitions section. For the avoidance of doubt, a Margin Close-Out does not and is not intended to limit your entire liability to us in respect of your CFD trades and Spread Bets. You can lose more than your Balance and may be required to make further payments.
- 16.12 If our client management team has previously agreed with you that it may suspend or override any Margin Close-Out initiated by the Trading Platform and the revaluation of your Equity falls to an amount at or below the Margin Close-Out level, our client management team may (in its sole discretion) try to contact you during Business Hours to request payment into the Account. If the client management team is unable to contact you and/or you are unable to fund your Account within a reasonable time, we may manually close all or a portion of your Positions in respect of any product within the applicable Market Hours and where trading is not otherwise suspended.

CFDs and Spread Bets

These Supplementary Terms provide a clearer understanding of CFDs and Spread Bets, their key features, differences, and additional information.

17. CFDs

- 17.1 Contracts for Difference ("CFDs") are derivative Financial Instruments that allow Clients to speculate on the price movements of underlying assets (such as Stocks, Indices, Commodities, or forex) without owning the underlying asset itself. The value of CFDs are indicative of the price movement of the underlying asset, with profits or losses calculated based on the difference between the opening and closing prices of the CFD Position. You do not own the underlying asset when trading CFDs, and therefore do not receive any associated rights, such as dividends for Stocks.

CFDs are considered high-risk investments and may not be suitable for all investors. The value of a CFD can fluctuate rapidly, and you may lose more than your Balance.

- 17.2 CFDs are traded on a leveraged basis, meaning both gains and losses can be amplified.

Our Service

- 17.3 You will trade with us as principal. For this you will be responsible for your trading obligations for each Order and Transaction. In accordance with clause 2.24, subject to our approval, you may appoint an Attorney under a POA to take action on your behalf under these Terms.
- 17.4 We may, at our discretion, provide information on request or on our Website or Trading Platform about specific CFDs, including procedures, risks, and risk mitigation strategies. We may also share relevant factual market information. Any information, Market Data, or analysis provided by us is for informational purposes only and should not be construed as advice or a recommendation to trade.

Impact of Taxation

- 17.5 Profit made from CFD trading is generally subject to Capital Gains Tax in the UK. This applies to both individual investors and companies. We do not provide tax advice, and it is your responsibility to seek independent tax advice to understand the tax implications of your CFD trading activities.

Trading with CFDs

- 17.6 When trading with CFDs, the following conditions apply:
- (a) neither of us shall physically acquire the base instrument purchased by the CFD;
 - (b) neither of us shall be obliged to buy, sell or deliver the respective base instrument traded as a CFD;
 - (c) the price of the CFD changes on an intra-day basis and is close or equal to the exchange price of the respective base instrument (such as a Stock, Index or Futures);
 - (d) in order to trade with CFDs, you must have sufficient Free Funds in your Account. The requirements of clauses 7.3 and 7.4 shall apply for all open Positions;
 - (e) when you open a CFD Position, your Account may be subject to overnight funding adjustments for each day the Position remains open, or any other costs according to the Costs and Charges document;
 - (f) your Account shall be charged with the costs for the execution of each Transaction with CFDs, according to the Costs and Charges document; and
- 17.7 The following are the circumstances under which the CFD may expire or terminate:
- (a) by you at any time during the Business Hours indicated on the Trading Platform;
 - (b) at the initiative of us when there is excessive usage of leverage, or you fail to satisfy the Position's Margin Requirement as set by us to protect you from the accumulation of large losses that would be expressed in a negative account balance;
 - (c) in the event that an underlying asset of the CFD has expired or is no longer trading; or
 - (d) at the initiative of us in the event that changes to the liquidity of the instrument in the market mean that risk cannot be properly hedged.

Therefore, before trading CFDs, you must ensure that you fully understand the associated risks, especially the counterparty risk. For more information, please refer to the Risk Disclosure Notice available on our Website.

Trading with CFDs on Currency Pairs

- 17.8 The price of a Currency Pair shows the exchange rate at which the two currencies are traded. Purchase of a Currency Pair means the purchase of the first currency of the pair and the sale of the second one. Sale of a Currency Pair means the sale of the first currency of the pair and the purchase of the second one. Transactions in Currency Pairs do not include the actual delivery of currency. The prices you see on the Trading Platform are not fixed and can vary from those quoted by other investment intermediaries. This is a common occurrence in financial markets due to factors like market demand, liquidity, and the specific pricing models used by different brokers.
- 17.9 Profits and losses generated by trading with Currency Pairs are always in the second currency of the pair. For instance: if you trade EUR/USD, you shall incur profits or losses in US dollars.
- 17.10 All Transactions with Currency Pairs shall be concluded in the manner specified in these Terms using the methods of communication specified in clause 9.
- 17.11 We may, at our complete discretion, determine Restricted Price Zones in which you cannot place Orders. Usually, these are prices that are too close to or too far from the market price of an instrument.

Trading with CFDs on Stocks and Indices

- 17.12 CFDs on Stocks and Indices lets you speculate the price of the respective Stock or Index without having to physically buy or sell the instrument. Buying CFDs on a Stock does not make you a shareholder in the respective company. You shall not have voting rights or liquidation rights.
- 17.13 If a company splits or reverse splits its Stock or issues rights or is subject to any other Corporate Action, you shall be informed and agree that the quantity and price of the CFDs in your Position may be increased or reduced.
- 17.14 If a company goes bankrupt or is delisted from the respective stock exchange, we may attempt to obtain prices for the instrument on the over-the-counter market. If this is not possible, you shall be informed that your Positions in CFDs of this company shall be closed, and you agree to the closing prices.
- 17.15 We reserve the right to make cash or other adjustments with respect to movements in an underlying Index resulting from dividends or other Corporate Actions to the extent we believe such adjustments are fair and reasonable. These circumstances include but are not limited to where:
- (a) an announcement that a certain Stock shall be removed or added to the Index;
 - (b) a change in the calculation method of an Index; or
 - (c) a Stock or Stock within the Index pays dividends:
 - i. where you have a long CFD Position, you will receive a cash adjustment attributed to an announced dividend payment issued by the underlying product. This may be net of withholding tax or other charges declared by us in the Costs and Charges document, as applicable. These adjustments will be applied to your Account on or before the announced market ex-dividend date. That is, the day a Stock trades without the right to the next dividend; and
 - ii. where you have a short CFD Position, you shall pay from your Account 100% of the announced dividend. These adjustments will be applied to your Account on or before the announced market ex-dividend date.

Trading with CFDs on Futures/Forwards

- 17.16 Futures are standardized Financial Instruments that are traded on exchanges, whereas Forwards are customized contracts traded over the counter (OTC). CFDs are also classified as OTC products. Accordingly, this document makes reference to CFD Forward contracts, which are tailored agreements based on the underlying assets, differing from standardized Futures contracts.

- 17.17 Each Forward contract is traded for a specific period of time. The expiration date is included in the name of the Forward (for example, Oil-Brent Crude Apr25).
- 17.18 You agree that your Positions shall be automatically closed on or before the expiration date of the corresponding Forward contract and may be rolled onto the next contract in accordance with your instructions.
- 17.19 You agree to the prices at which your Positions shall be closed on the expiration date of the respective Forward contract.

Trading with CFDs on Commodities

- 17.20 Trading with CFDs on Commodities is based on spot and Futures prices and does not include the actual delivery of the quantities that have been purchased or sold.
- 17.21 When trading with CFDs on Commodities, the price of the Commodity shows the proportion in which it is traded against the currencies denominated.
- 17.22 You acknowledge that the prices of CFDs on Commodities displayed on the Trading Platform may vary from the prices offered by other investment intermediaries.
- 17.23 Trades in CFDs on Commodities are concluded in the manner specified in these Terms using the methods of communication specified in clause 9.
- 17.24 We may, at our complete discretion, determine Restricted Price Zones in which you cannot place Orders. Usually, these are prices that are too close to or too far from the market price of an instrument.

Settlement of Trades

- 17.25 CFDs do not involve the physical delivery of the underlying asset. Instead, trades are settled in cash, based on the difference between the opening and closing prices of the Position. Some CFDs may expire, and the process of settlement by expiry is described on our Website. Profits or losses from CFD trades will be credited or debited to your Account at the time the Position is closed.

18. Spread Bet

Spread Bets are leveraged financial betting products that allow you to speculate on the price movement of a financial market or asset without owning the underlying asset. You do not have any ownership rights, voting rights, or entitlement to dividends related to the underlying asset on which the Spread Bet is based. When you place a Spread Bet, you are taking a position on whether the price will rise or fall, based on the difference (or spread) between the buy and sell prices.

Spread Bets are considered high-risk investments and may not be suitable for all investors. The value of a Spread Bet can fluctuate rapidly, and you may lose more than your Balance.

Our Service

- 18.1 You will trade Spread Bets with us as principal. For this you will be responsible for your trading obligations for each Spread Bet opened by you.
- 18.2 We may, at our discretion, provide information on request about specific Spread Bets, including procedures, risks, and risk mitigation strategies. We may also share relevant factual market information. Any information, Market Data, or analysis provided by us is for informational purposes only and should not be construed as advice or a recommendation to trade.

Settlement of Spread Bets

95 Cromwell Road, Second Floor, London, SW7 4DL, United Kingdom

<https://markets.flux.live>

- 18.3 Spread Bets are settled in cash based on the difference between the opening and closing prices of the underlying asset. If you make a profit, your Account will be credited with the amount of the profit. If you incur a loss, your Account will be debited with the amount of the loss.

Impact of Rollovers

- 18.4 If you hold a Spread Bet Position overnight, it may be subject to financing charges, which will be debited or credited to your Account depending on the direction of your Position. You agree that your Positions shall be automatically closed on or before the expiration date of the corresponding contract and may be rolled onto the next contract in accordance with your instructions.

Market Volatility and Liquidity

- 18.5 The prices of products on which Spread Bets are based can be highly volatile and may change rapidly in response to market events, economic data, political news, or other factors beyond our control. In certain market conditions, it may be difficult or impossible to close a Position, which could result in significant losses. You should be prepared for potential price gaps or Slippage, which may occur during volatile or illiquid market conditions.

Execution Risks

- 18.6 Spread Bets are executed on an execution-only basis, meaning we will act solely on your instructions without providing any investment advice or recommendations. We do not assess the suitability of any Spread Bet for you, and you are fully responsible for your own investment decisions. Ensure that you understand the nature of the product and the extent of your exposure to risk.

Impact of Taxation

- 18.7 The tax treatment of any profits or losses arising from Spread Betting depends on your individual circumstances and may change over time. In some jurisdictions, Spread Betting may be exempt from capital gains tax but not from income tax. We do not provide tax advice, and it is your responsibility to seek independent tax advice to understand the tax implications of your Spread Betting activities.
